Why She Joined FGCLA

As a little girl, I attended many different FCCLA events with my mom, who is an adviser. I decided that as soon I could join in middle school, I would become a part of FCCLA. At my first National Leadership Conference I saw the ten national officers on stage- from that point on I knew I would do what it takes to be a national officer myself. FCCLA is a great organization and I continue to learn and be amazed every day by the results we create through our impact in the world.

Three Life Goals

1. To continue to live my life in a way that I believe is pleasing to G-d.
2. Be a full-time missionary in another country one day.
3. Make an impact on the homeless and low income families across the world.

Quote to Live By

"But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariable the same object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government and to provide new guards for their future security."

- Declaration of Independence
